

Jewellery design

*Roger Millar
Brooch
1979
Silver, gold, polyester resin*

This silver brooch decorated in fine gold inlay and polyester resins was made by the Scottish artist Roger Millar in 1979.

The small brooch has strongly coloured decoration. All recessed surfaces were oxidised.

Roger Millar teaches at the School of Design and Craft at Glasgow School of Art, where he is head of the silversmithing and jewellery department. He has produced a number of private commissions, and has exhibited widely.